the route . . . .

DIRECTIONS

Norton is situated at the junction of routes 123 and 140. The College recommends the following routes:

From Boston:

1. Route 1 to 128 (south); right on Interstate 95; exit on 140 (2nd exit, Mansfield) south to Norton.
2. Southeast Expressway (route 3) to 128 (north) to 24 and 123 (1st exit) into Norton.

From the West:

1. Route 15 (Wilbur Cross Parkway); east on 44 into 101; left on 116; right on 114; left on 123 east into Norton.
2. Connecticut Turnpike (Interstate 95) to New London and Providence; right on 123 (Attleboro exit) into Norton.

From the Northwest:

Massachusetts Turnpike to exit 11A; route 495 to 95, north on 95 to 140 (Mansfield) south to Norton.

Mansfield and Attleboro are the stations nearest the College for trains from Boston and Providence.

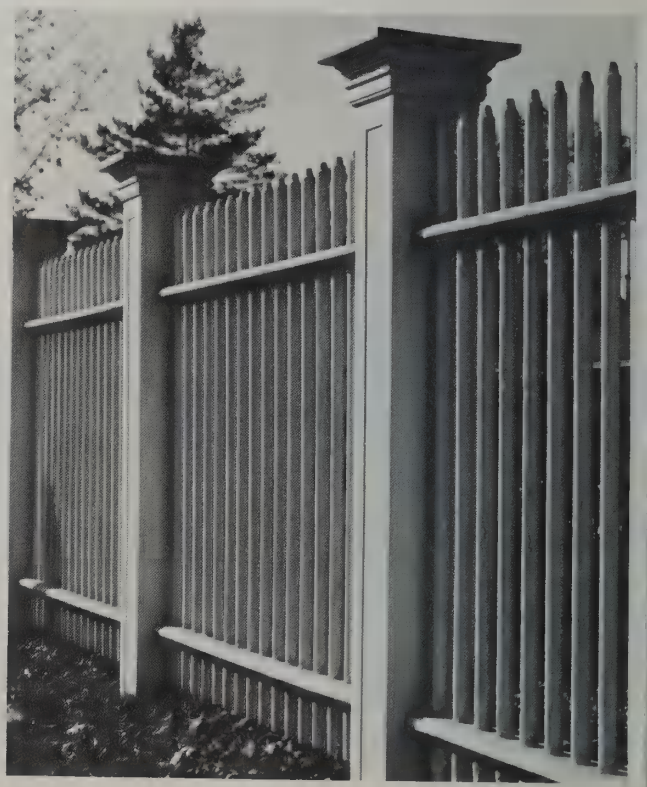
the fence



I have frequently seen a poet withdraw, having enjoyed the most valuable part of a farm, while the crusty farmer supposed that he had got a few wild apples only. Why, the owner does not know it for many years when a poet has put his farm in rhyme, the most admirable kind of invisible fence, has fairly impounded it, milked it, skimmed it, and got all the cream, and left the farmer only the skimmed milk.

thoreau, walden

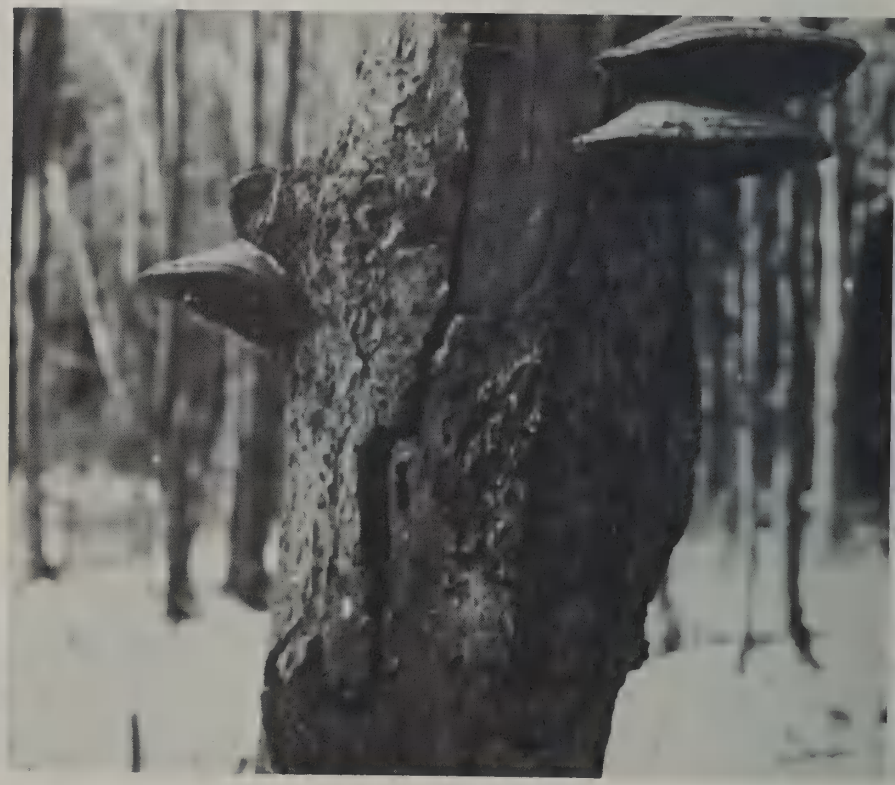
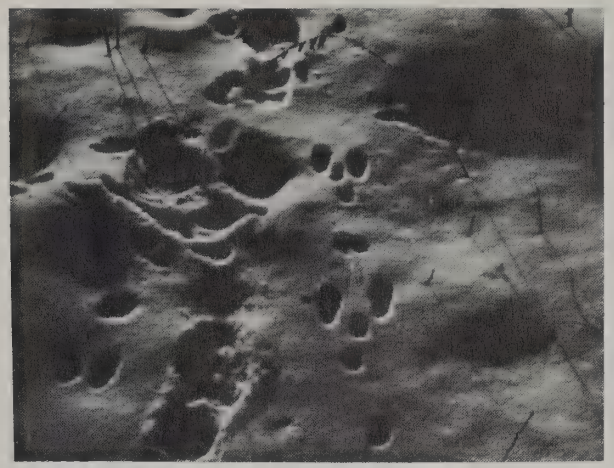
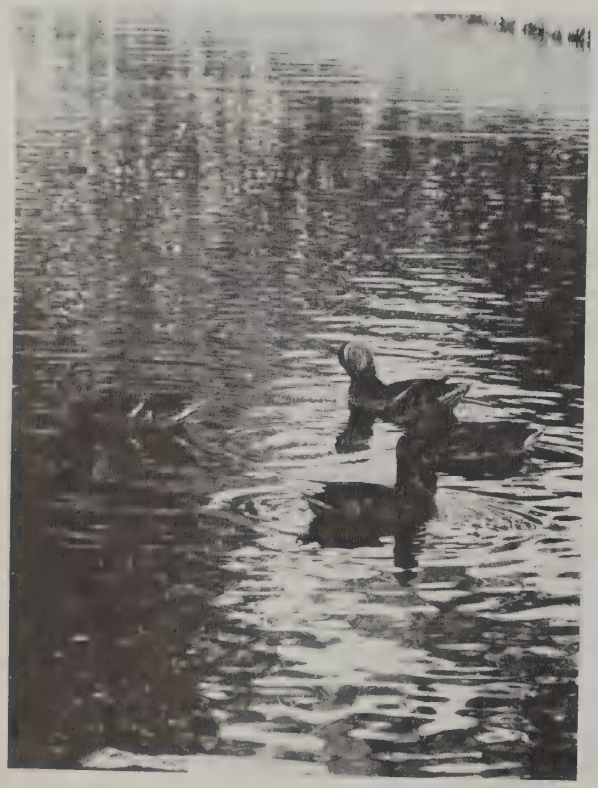
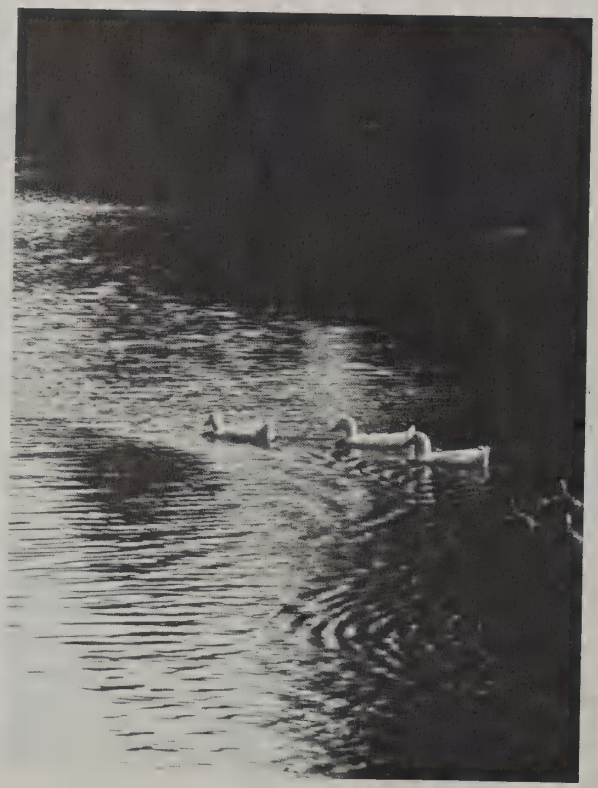
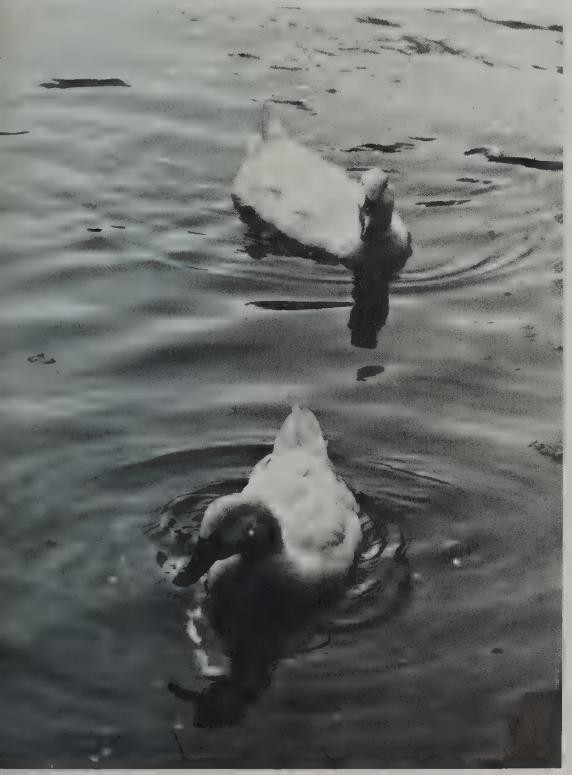
the setting. . .

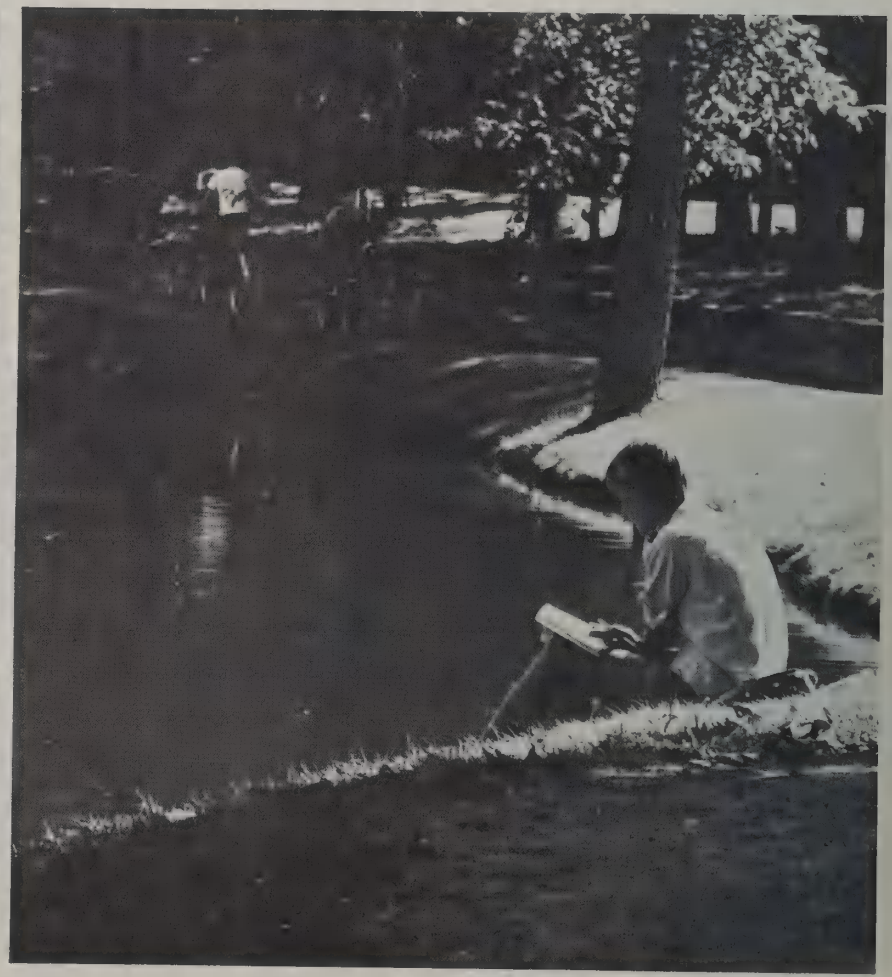


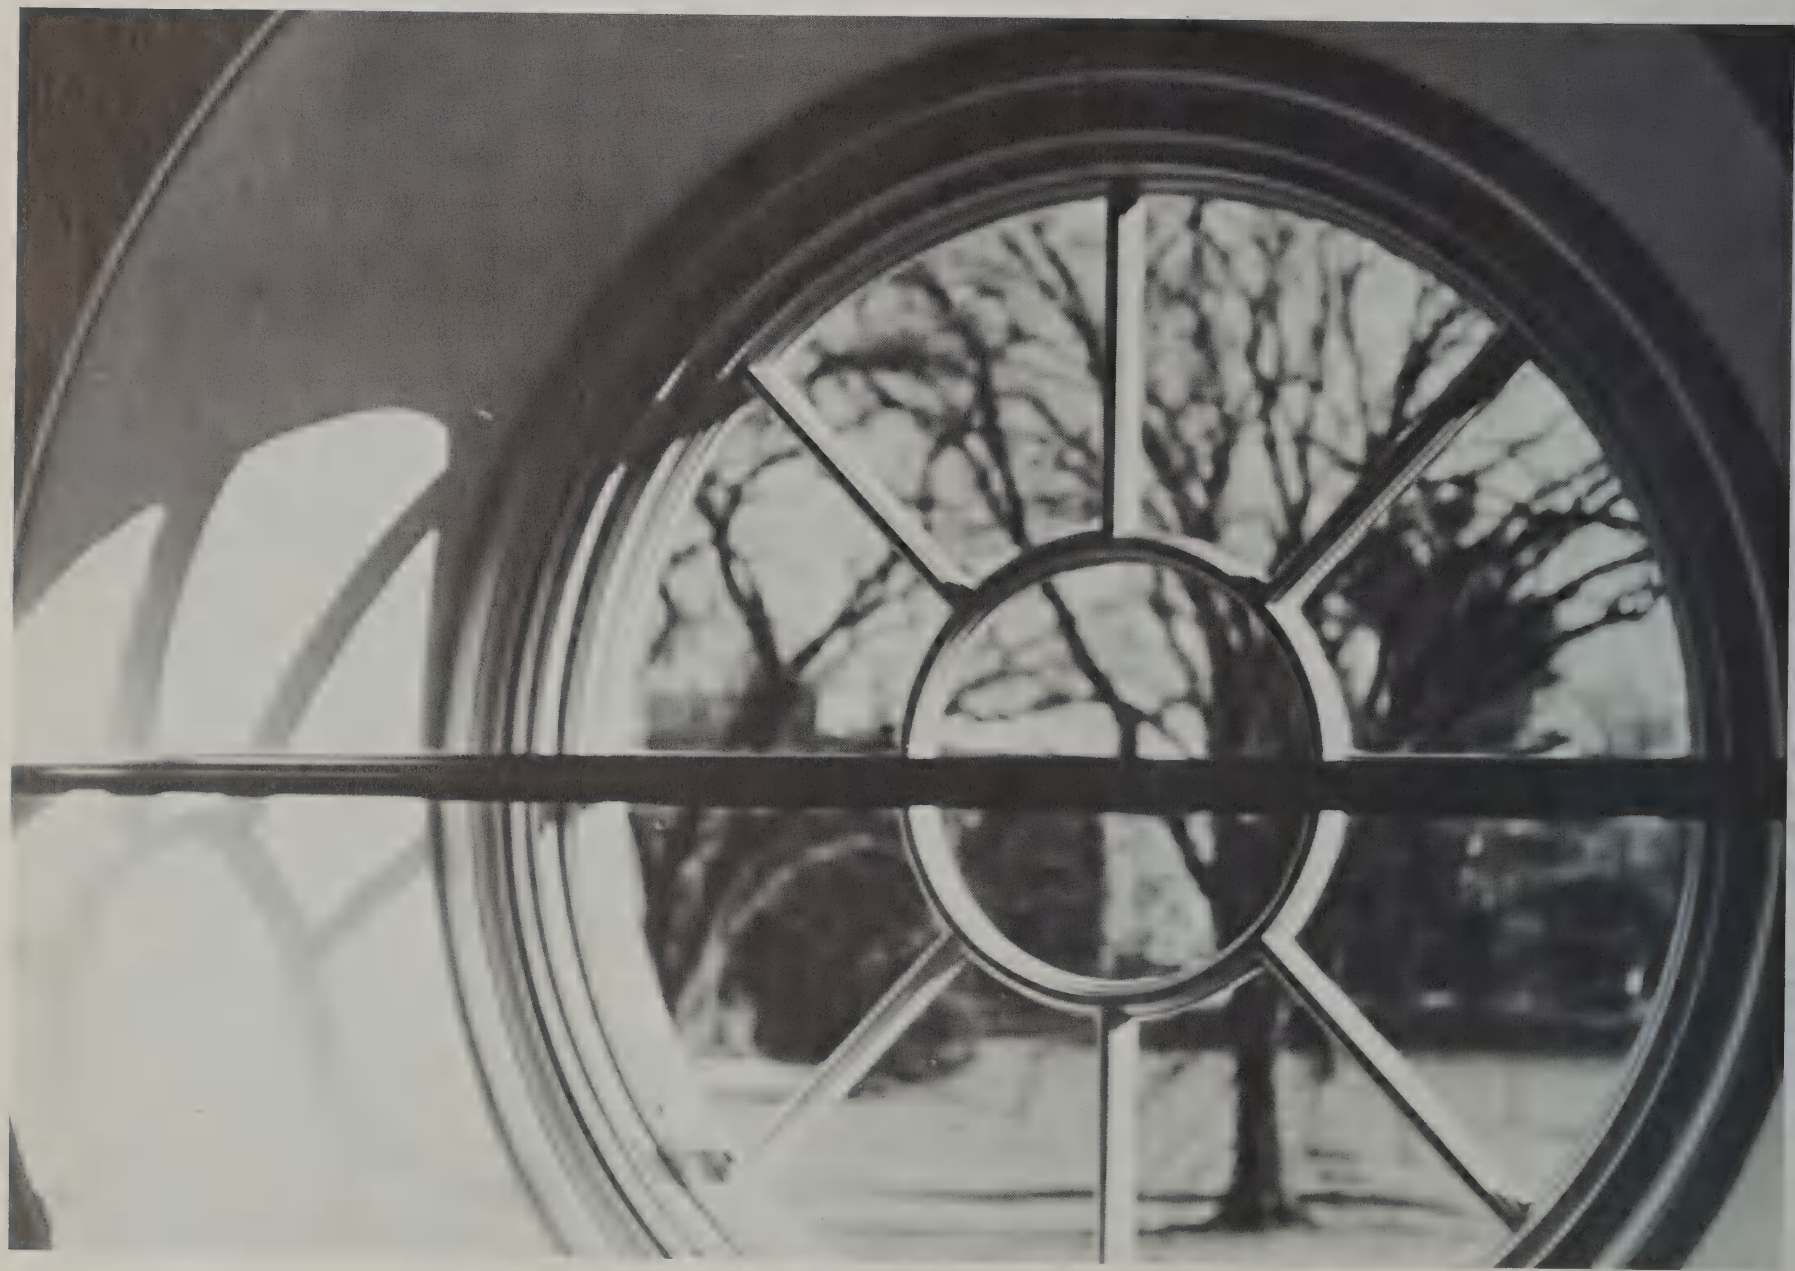












the common

I went to the woods because I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what it had to teach, and not, when I came to die, discover that I had not lived.
I did not wish to live what was not life . . . I wanted to live deep and suck out all the marrow of life . . .

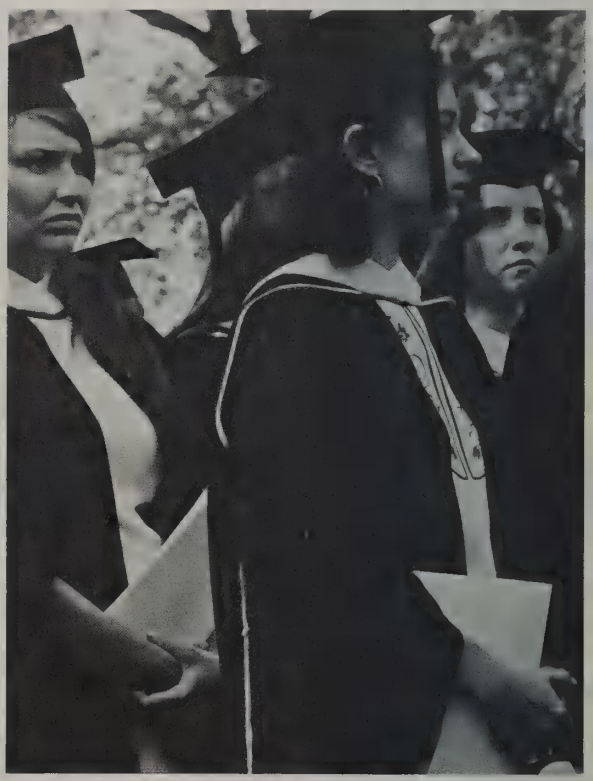
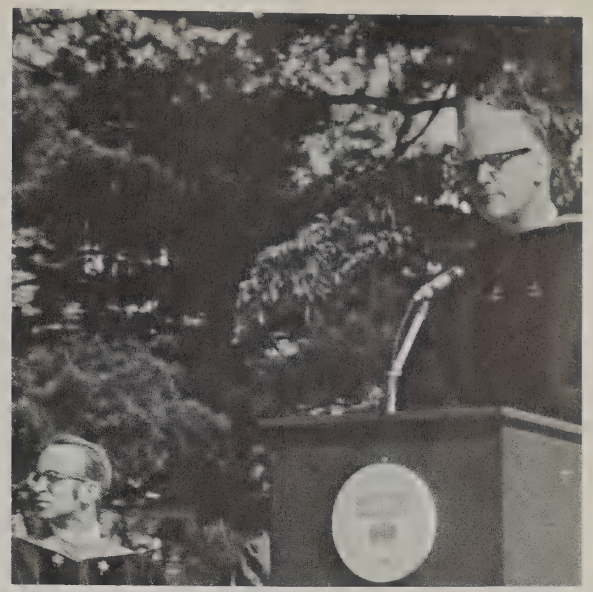
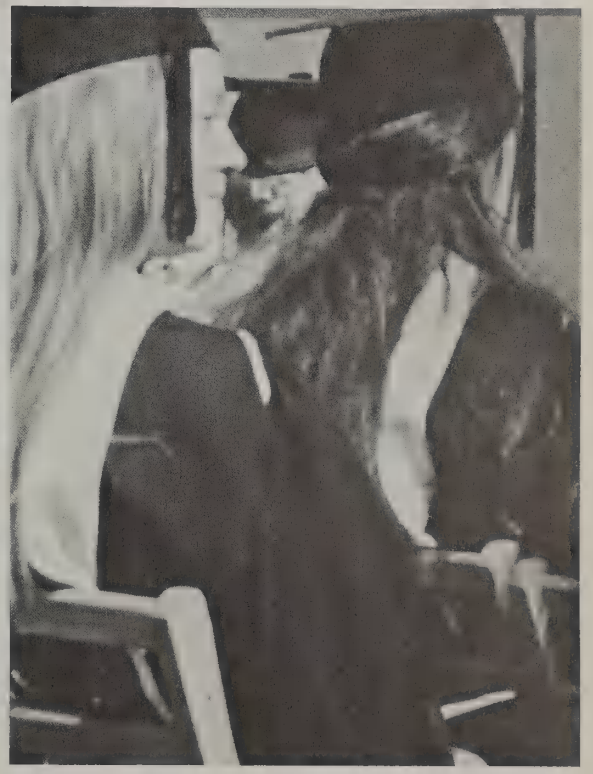
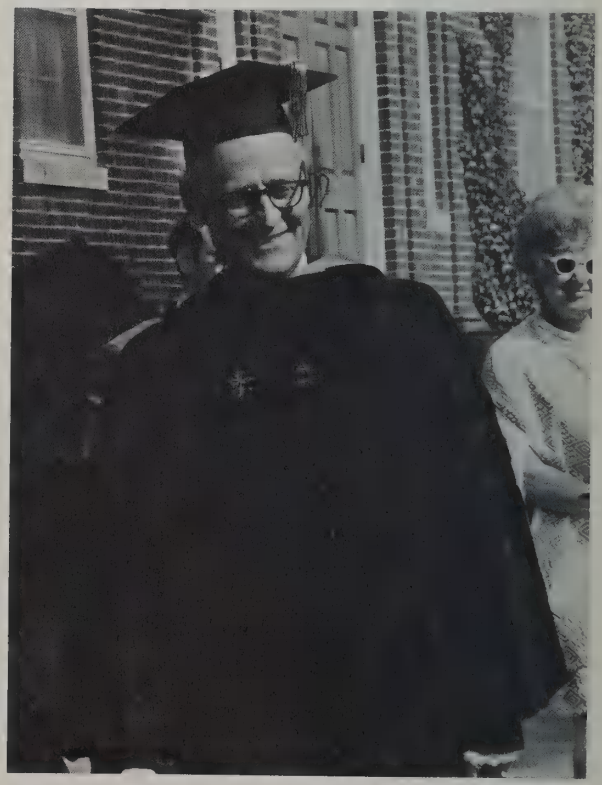
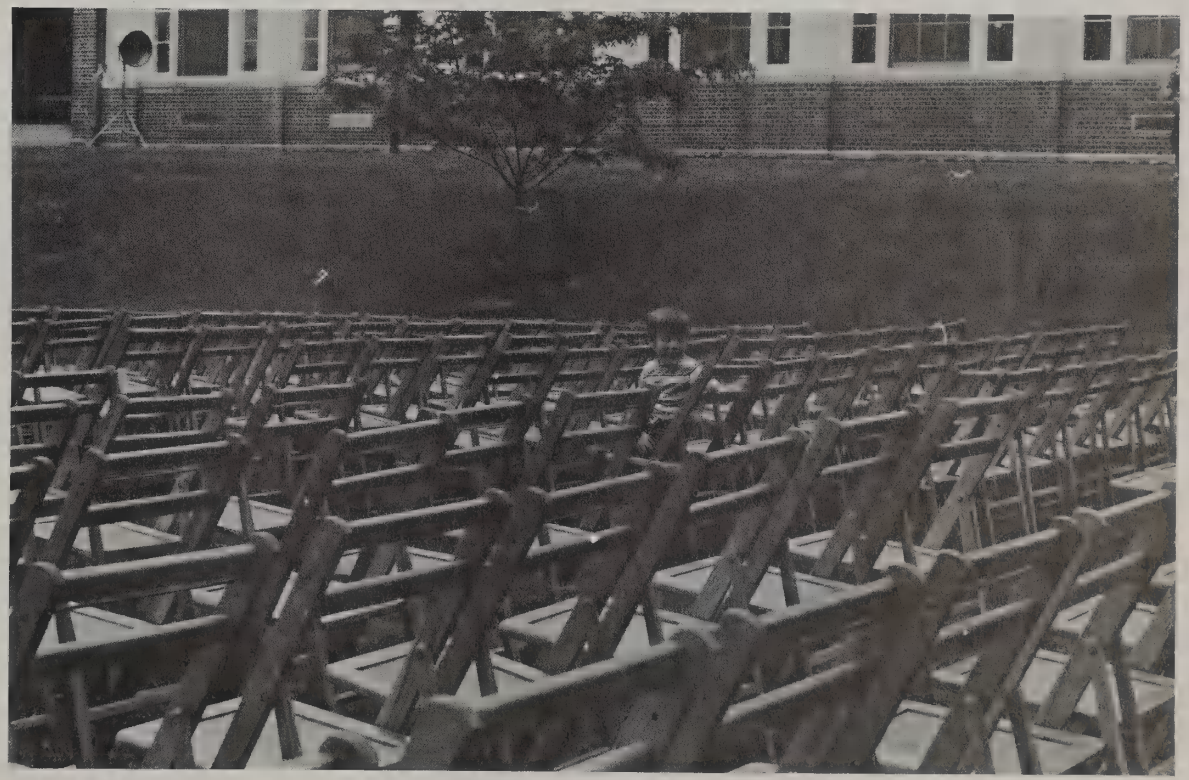
. . the end











As a work of art, I know of few things more pleasing to the eye, or more capable of affording scope and gratification to a taste for the beautiful, than a well-situated, well-cultivated farm.
